WHY US?

Our business has had a reputation as one of Yorkshire's top employers for 150 years, and now we're building an internal digital agency that has the vision to revolutionise the way our 12 businesses operate, while helping new opportunities scale.

We have a brand-new head office environment overlooking Hull Marina with facilities such as a gym, innovation hub, cafe and coworking spaces. We have several new hires across the business to learn, develop and grow with and have exciting early-stage projects that provide a wealth of opportunities.

If you like variety, discussing challenges with knowledgeable individuals and working in an entrepreneurial environment then this is the opportunity for you.

WHO ARE YOU?

You'll be someone who executes end to end design, from visual low fidelity concepts through to quality assuring the engineering build.

You're someone who has insight into what customers might want, has an idea of what is technically feasible for a developer (in a reasonable amount of time) and can then visually present your designs.

You'll be obsessed with customer behaviour and how people interact with your designs. You'll present and defend your designs to broader stakeholders with this in mind.

You are creative, ambitious and rise to a challenge. You love to learn and will strive to develop your skills and knowledge.

You are well organised, self-motivated and can manage your own tasks and work schedule to meet deadlines.

You'll be comfortable collaborating with a team of developers, product specialists and marketers.

You'll be up to date on the latest trends and have an awareness of the latest tools that can help you achieve your creative goals.
